Calkins named L.B. police chief by Dever

Carl J. Calkins, acting police chief of Long Beach since last May, has been named chief by City Manager John Dever.

A spokesman for Dever said Friday the city manager will sub-mit Calkins' nomination to the City Council for confirmation Tuesday and the new chief will be sworn in a departmental ceremony Friday.

Five candidates, including three local applicants, appeared before a board of professionals in the police and public administration fields as well as a separate board of Long Beach citizens," the state-ment said.

"These boards presented sepa-rate evaluations and recommendations to the city manager. The unanimous recommendation as most qualified was Carl Calkins."

Quebec law: speak French

QUEBEC, Canada (AP) — The Quebec Legislature passed a controversial bill Friday night making French the official language of education, business and government in this huge province of east-ern Canada. It was immediately signed into law.

French is the tongue of 5 million of Quebec's 6 million residents.

The legislature adopted the bill

The Charter of the French Lan-

— The Charter of the French Lan-guage — by a 54-32 vote. Lt. Gov. Hugues Lapointe, ceremonial representative of the British crown in Quebec, executed the formality of signing it and the legislature adjourned until Oct. 18.

The measure, which mandates

French usage everywhere from road signs to schools, was the first major initiative of the separatist Parti Quebecois government that gained power in elections last November.

The vote came after a concilia-tory speech by Cultural Develop-ment Minister Camille Laurin, author of the law.

Sohio bid for terminal gets double boost

Standard Oil of Ohio's proposal to build an Alaskan oil terminal in the Port of Long Beach got a boost Friday from Southland smog officials and the Federal Power Com-

A study by the staff of the South Coast Air Quality Manage-ment District (AQMD) showed that three of four critical components of the Southland's photochemical smog will be reduced by operation of the three-berth 865 million termi-

That conclusion was reached because at least part of the Alaskan oil will come through Southern California without the controls and regulations that would be imposed on the Sohio terminal.

In Washington, an administra-tive law judge for the Federal Power Commission (FPC) ruled there would be little environmental impact in abandoning an idle natural gas pipeline across the Southwest and converting it to transport Sohio's Alaskan oil to Midland,

THE AQMD study, released Friday, was a summary of hearings held July 22, and Aug. 18 and build and construct the terminal at the foot of Pier J. The study also said much more work needs to be done before Sohio could acquire meeded air quality permits.

The study says that, based on revised data, operating the terminal — as opposed to building no terminal at all — will result in a 65 percent reduction of sulfur dioxide, a 40 percent reduction in particulates and a more than 90 percent reduction in hydrocarbon emis-

However, nitrous oxide emissions would be increased by about 40 percent if the terminal is operated, the study says.

The study is careful to point out, however, that the "project-no project" comparison assumes that Sobic will comply with the AQMD recommendation of removing 1.2 pounds of pollution from the air for every pound generated by the project.

The study also assumes that Alaskan oil will be arriving in the Port of Long Beach regardless of whether the project is built.

"It the proposed project is not accepted," the study says, "Sohio plans to transfer 500,000 barrels a

Sniper kills six along bicycle path, then self

The son of a former town council-man shot and killed six bicycle riders Friday, then killed himself as officers and bloodhounds closed in on him, police said.

The gunman, identified as Emil Benoist, died of wounds from a .44-caliber rifle at Community Hospital in this town of 11,000; in northwest New Jersey.

Identities of the victims, most of them in their teens or early 20s. were withheld pending notification of relatives.

There was no known motive for the shootings, police said.

Three of the victims, each shot several times, were found about 300 yards behind an abandoned tannery here after police received a call at 5:36 p.m. about a shooting near the bicycle path adjacent to railroad

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bert Lance "clearly pledged the same collateral on two different loans" but did so unintentionally. President Carter's chief spokesman said Friday.
A Senate committee investigating the budget director's financial affairs will broaden its probe to include Lance's violation of a loan agreement with a New York bank during the transaction.

The investigation is being conducted by the Governmental Affairs Committee, which approved Lance's appointment as director of the Office of Management and Budget. "Anything that comes up-like that will be included," said John Walker, spokesman for Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., ranking minority member of the panel. He referred to an

Press report that Lance pledged stock dividends as part of the collateral for a $2,625,000 loan from the bank, then broke the agreement by putting up the same stock divi-dends as collateral for a loan from another bank.

Walker said the transactions would be included in the prepara-tion for hearings by the committee beginning Sept. 7. Lance is ex-pected to testify Sept. 8-9. In two sessions with reporters, one a special briefing for which he was an hour late, White House Press Secretary Jody Powell defended Lance's transactions as ethical. He said Lance told him he "was not aware" he had pledged the same dividends for two loans.

Meanwhile, Lance said Friday he saw "no need to think about resigning" from his post.

Lance made the statement in an interview with reporters of the National Black Network.
Powell was asked whether Lance, a long-time Georgia banker, was aware when he signed an agreement with Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. for the $2.6-million loan that the agreement contained a standard pledge familiar to bankers around the country under which Lance would turn over stock dividends as additional collateral.

"He did not say he was una-ware at that point," Powell replied. "That is my assumption based on all logic that he would be aware of a standard agreement in this re-Powell said Lance made an unwitting" choice to send those particular shares instead of unpledged assets to the Chemical Bank, as collateral for a second loan. But the press secretary added: "I don't know of any way on God's earth to prove that."

Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr., the director-designate of the FBI, underwent surgery in Houston Friday to correct a weakened and ballooning wall in his main abdominal artery.

The 70-minute operation, which involved cutting out the weakened wall and replacing it with a Daeron graft, was performed by Dr. Michael E. deBakey at the Methodist Hospital. When he finished, the surgeon pronounced Johnson's condition "excellent" and said he would remain hospitalized for about 10 days. The surgeon predicted complete recovery in six weeks, and said the graft should last for the rest of Johnson's life.

DeBakey said the malady, an aneurysm of the abdominal aorta, was fairly common, adding that he had performed the same operation on another patient earlier Friday morning. But he said that a rupture of an untreated aneurysm is fatal in most cases.

Earlier, the FBI announced it would enter the case to determine if there were any violations of the victims' civi rights.

Nixon angry, Pat hurt by allegations of missing gifts

Former President Nixon was described Friday as angry and Mrs. Nixon as deeply hurt by implica-tions that they intentionally kept some valuable foreign gifts that belong to the government.

"Right now she is going through stuff in the house, like the boss's jewelry, to see if there are cuff links or stuff like that," Nixon's aide. Jack Brennan, said in a telephone interview from San Clemente.

Another aide, Ken Khachigian, spoke of "the really crummy implica-tion that they have broken the law in a sense, taking things that belonged to the public."

Nixon's lawyers asked a court Wednesday to bar the government from rummaging through storage boxes for photographs, lists or other clues about foreign gifts presented to Nixon and his family while he was president. The law requires that any gift worth more than $50 be turned over to the State Department and such items usually end up as displays in presidential li-

A federal judge refused to halt the search, which will begin next week.

On Monday, the Washington Post said some government officials believe some gifts are in the Nixons' custody. The newspaper listed some "missing" items as a carpet, watches, antiquities, an oil painting, a silver box, a gold neeklace and hracelet, several other bracelets.

The ruling required most of the payment to come from Dr. Robert Trahms, and the balance by his wife, Nancy, and his brother, George, both also psychiatrists.

Ertola found that the plaintiffs had "suffered serious harm" at the hands of all the defendants.

The judge did not approve of Trahms' advice to Miss Buckingham to attend a swingers' party and par-

Cancer survival chances increase

Survival rates for seven of the 10 most prevalent cancers have shown significant improvement between 1950 and 1973, according to the latest figures compiled by the National Cancer Institute. However, the over-all survival rate for all 10 cancers showed only a slight improvement, going from 39 percent in the 1950-59 period to 41 percent in 1967-73. The rates are based on a person surviving five or more years free of cancer after diagnosis and treatment.

The reason for the small over-all improvement is a great increase in lung-cancer cases, which brought the over-all average down, said Lillian M. Oxtell, an NCI

"Nevertheless, there has been steady progress in gancer survival rates and we expect to see it continue,

The number of lung-cancer cases has doubled from the early '50s to the late '60s. Last year an estimated 83,800 Americans died of lung cancer, including 18,600 period.

"The adjusted over-all survival rates would have increased from 39 to 45 percent if there were no big increase in the lung-cancer cases," Oxfell said.

Some critics of the federal government's $800 milllon annual expenditure on caucer research and treatment have claimed that the vast spending has not dramatically improved the outlook for concer cures.

The first patients treated under the National Cancer Act were not diagnosed until 1973 and 1974 and it will take several years from now to determine if the act has increased survival rates, Oxtell said.

The 10 cancers in the survey account for between 63 and 65 percent of all cancers. Those showing increased survival rates ranging from 2 to 8 percent are cancers of the prostate, colon, rectum, lung, cervical corpus, breast, and bladder. Those showing a decline or no improvement in survival rates are cancers of the cervix. stomach, and pancreas. a manager , 184

Long Beach, Calif., Sal., Aug. 27, 1977 INDEPENDENT, PRESS-TELEGRAM—A-5 Black kids adopted by whites rate high

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - A study that showed the IQ scores of black children were much higher if they were adopted by white parents refutes the notion that blacks are genetically tess intelligent, a Yale psychologist said Friday.

Dr. Sandra Scarr aligned herself with psychologists who say that blacks score lower on IQ tests and do more poorly in schools because the schools and tests are designed according to white culture and blacks have been reared in a different culture.

The three-year study showed that on the whole, 130 black children adopted by white Minnesota families are doing about as well intellectually as a group of white children adopted by white families, said Dr. Scarr.

Other scientists, such as psychologist Arthur Jensen, hold that blacks as a race are inherently less intelligent; that it is their genetic background, rather than their environment, that results in lower IQ scores.

"It is very unlikely that genetic racial differences account for differences in IQ," Dr. Scarr told the 85th annual convention of the American Psychological Association, which opened Friday. She said the black children were all adopted in their first year of life by white, middle-class families, many of whom also had children of their own. Tested for IQ at "This has to represent at least a 15-point increase over what they would have scored if they had been reared by their natural parents," said Dr. Scarr. She said the natural parents had IQ scores in the 90s — not indicating they were less intelligent, only that they were less familiar with the patterns of thinking and the standards of white culture.

around age 4, the black children scored an average of 110. Normal IQ is about 100.

While rejecting the idea of genetic differences bewhile rejecting the idea of general anti-cuts when racial groups, Dr. Scarr emphasized that individuals within those groups vary widely in intelligence, and that those differences have a strong genetic basis.

She said this was demonstrated by a companion study of white children adopted by white parents. The parents, who ranged considerably in social class but who averaged in family income about $25,000 a year, were of slightly higher than average intelligence, scoring about 115 on IQ tests.

She said this was because families who adopt are a somewhat selected group.

The natural children of these parents also scored above average, about 112. But the adopted children average some 6 points lower — the reason being, according to Dr. Scarr, that the parents who gave them up. for adoption were a very average group of people.

Granddaughters walk in steps of old suffragettes

By Vera Glaser Knight-Ridder Service

WASHINGTON-Picking up their grandmothers' fight for equality, feminists marched on the White House again Friday to urge passage of the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA).

President Carter assured women leaders of his continued support for the measure to ban sex bias, now as politically charged as the vote for women once was.

Minutes later, 3,000 women and a sprinkling of men stepped briskly from a spot near the National Archives where, in 1913, the original suffragettes were spat upon, burned with cigars and, as police stood by, forced by hecklers to abandon their march.

THIS TIME, IN crisp, sunny weather, led by a motorcycle escort, a marching band and an old-fashioned trolley carrying a handful of the original suffragettes, the marchers reached the White House and staged a rally across the street in Lafayette Park.

The march, on the 57th anniversary of the signing of the 19th Amendment giving women the right to vote, attracted representatives of more than 80 women's.

church and labor organizations. They moved up Pennsylvania Avenue, clad in white, singing and chanting and flourishing the purple and yellow banners, now tattered, used by the late suffragist Alice Paul and her National Women's Party.

In the front ranks were presidential aide Midge Costanza; Reps. Margaret Heckler, R-Mass., and Elizabeth Holtman, D-N.Y., and former Rep. Bella Abzug of Keeping pace was tiny, 87-year-old suffragette Hazel Hunkins Hallinan, who refused to ride. Back in 1917, she scaled the fence and set a bonfire in front of President Woodrow Wilson's White House to dramatize women's right to vote.

SOME OF THE MARCHERS brought their hus-SOME OF THE MARCHERS brought their husbands and babies. Some wore dresses from the '20s, dug out of attics and plastered with buttons reading. "ERA Won't Go Away" and "Alice Paul Lives."

Dina Willner of Wilmington, Del., and Katharine Fulmore of Warwick, N.Y., granddaughters of a suffragette, traveled to Washington for the march. They wore the "Votes for Women" streamers handed down to them by their grandmother, Caroline Lexow Babcock.

"She lives in Blairstown, N.J. She lies about her age, but I think she's 94," Ms. Willner said.

The good-humored, buoyant, sweet-singing procession attracted only a scattering of lunch-bour passersby.

One man quipped, "I'm interested in women of all shapes and sizes." Another cracked, "Heil Hitler!"

What had been billed as a "counterdemonstration" a few blocks from the White House turned out to be two chlerly men carrying a sign calling the ERA "dangerous and fraudulent" and a handful of shouting boys.

They were drowned out by marchers chanting,

"Hey, hey, what do you say? We want the ERA!"

LEADERS OF THE major sponsoring organizations
— the National Organization for Women National Women's Party, League of Women Voters and Business and Professional Women's Clubs — marched with a giant banner. It bore the text of the proposed constitutional amendment, still three states short of final rati-

"Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state because of sex."

At Lafayette Park, marchers sat on the grass, some munching picnic lunches, as Ms. Costanza promised to tell Carter their message had been "loud and clear."

She said women ought to be sharing positions of power. She drew cheers when she said, "Some of us have sat in that chair (Carter's) for a few moments and I'm here to tell you it fits!"

A police sergeant on the sidelines observed, "Without people like this we might not be gainfully employed. Before this is over, I'm likely to fall in love.

Vast food stamp rip-off reported

WASHINGTON (AP) - Some $18.6-million worth of lood stamps went to families not entitled to receive them during each of the last six months of 1976, Agriculture Department auditors reported Friday.

An estimated 253,048 households a month were involved, the report said. On a yearly basis, that would mean $222.8 million for persons ineligible for the aid.

The report also said that another 1.17 million families eligible for food stamps received more than they should have. These over-issues of stamps cost the government about $31.2 million a month during the same six-month period, or $374 million a year, the USDA

The study indicated overall losses of $596.8 million a year to the food-stamp program - nearly the same as in previous checks.

The report did not say how much of that money USDA has recovered.

IN A PARTIALLY offsetting set of statistics, the report said that about 430,720 bouseholds which were eligible for the program could have received a total of 8.4 million in stamps a month — or $100.8 million a year — but declined to do so.

The semi-annual internal audit on the food stamp program also said that auditors found about 9 percent of those who were rejected by food-stamp offices should have been approved for the coupons. The stamps that went to ineligible recipients amounted to roughly 4.4 percent of the benefits paid out, the report said.

The households receiving more then their share of food stamps amounted to about 21.7 percent of the average caseload at the time covered by the report. During those six months, some 5.38 million households received an average total of $122.1 million each month in food stamp benefits. Current participation is running closer to 5.2 million families at an annual cost of about $5.4 billion, including "The secretary is just deeply concerned about what is happening, and wants to keep a close watch on developments," the spokesman said.

Nazi parade refused

Supreme Court Justice John Paul Stevens refused Friday to permit Nazi demonstrators to parade uemonstrators to parade with swastikas in a Chicago suburb in which about 7,000 survivors of World War II death camps reside.

Stevens rejected an application by the National Socialist Party of America for a stay that would have cleared the way for such demonstrations while a lower-court order banning them is being appealed.

The Illinois Supreme Court has set arguments on the appeal Sept. 20.
"I am confident the Illinois Supreme Court will make its decision without any unnecessary delay, Stevens said.

The party, represented by attorneys of the Ameri-can Civil Liberties Union, is appealing a ruling by the Illinois Appellate Court that under the circumstances the display of the Nazi emblem would be "an epithet of racial and religious hatred."

The party and its leader, Frank Collin, have argued that the state court order is an unconstituinterference with tional

"symbolic speech."
The party originally planned to parade in Skokie on April 30, but the demonstration has been held in abeyance by court orders. In the meantime, local ordinances have been passed in Skokie requiring $350,000 insurance for public demonstrations and imposing other restrictions.

ACLU attorneys had said that if Stevens rejected their application they would pursue a sepa-rate legal challenge to the ordinances. They have filed the challenge in U.S. District Court in Chicago.

Hispanics seek identity in U.S. Catholic hierarchy

By George Vecsey New York Times Service

WASHINGTON - Hispanic-Americans are thrusting themselves toward the mainstream of the Roman Catholic Church after what they consider to be centuries of neglect.
The latest show of concern emerged at a national meeting of Hispanic Catholics at Trinity College here this week. Some 700 delegates were expected, but more than 1,000 showed up. The attendance by more than 40 bishops reflected the growing political power of Hispanics within the church.

WHILE THE main theme of the Segundo Encuentro (Second En-counter) was evangelism, drawing Spanish Catholies closer to the faith, a number of resolutions made it clear the delegates desire that efforts include greater attention to local economic and social needs.

Delegates rejected the theory of the American "melting pot" and called for more Hispanies in the church hierarchy.

'We don't want to start a new church," said Jennie Rodrigues of the Bronx, "But if a parish is Hi-spanic, it, should have Hispanic 'Nothing against Anglos, but when I go to confession, I want to be able to express myself the best way I know how. Representation has been a sore point with Hispanic-American Catholics, who make up nearly one-third of the 50 million American Catholies, according to Paul Sedillo Jr.

of the secretariat for the Spanishspeaking in the American hier-

The American church is around 17 percent Irish, but 67 percent of the American hierarchy is Irish," said Sedillo. "There was never much consciousness about Hispanies until recently."

The bishops seem to be making an effort to show their concern at this conference. Delegates cheered at the opening speech in Spanish by Bishop Thomas C. Kelly, new secretary general of the National Council of Catholic Bishops and the U.S. Catholic Conference, They also cheered the English words of Bishop Raymond J. Gallagher of Indiana, who said:

"No longer can we take for granted the kindness, understanding and patience of our Spanish-speaking brethren. If there has been ignorance and indifference to-ward Hispanics, I believe a new day has arisen."

THE FIRST Encuentro Na-cional (National Encounter) five years ago was dominated by bishops, according to many Hispanics. But more than 75 percent of the resolutions of that meeting have been implemented by the church since then, including the raising of Sedillo's office to the secretariat leyel.

Sedillo, an 11th-generation American who can trace his heritage to the Pueblo Indians and the Catalan region in Spain, has en-couraged Hispanics to put pressure on the church.

"We politicized the Holy Spirit," he says with a trace of a smile meaning that the pressures of Hispanic-Americans had helped to influence the hierarchy in its deliberations for new bishops. At the time of the first encounter, there was only one Hispanic bishop in the United States. Today there

Hispanics say they have been neglected by the church because of fragmentation among regions—Puerto Ricans in the North, Cubans in the Southeast, Chicanos in the West.

"This weekend some Chicanos have heard a rapid Cuban accent for the first time in their lives," said the Rev. Frank Ponce of San Bernardino, meeting coordinator. There is a sense of Hispanics as a mosale. We make each other Hispanics are beginning to realize their considerable strength, although there is some concern over the uncounted numbers who have joined other churches, such as Pentecostal, Baptists and Jehovah's Witnesses. Many said these churches have been successful because they paid attention to daily life and Hispanic culture.

'If the first Encuentro Nacional succeeded in sensitizing the church of our country to the pres-ence of the Hispano and informing them that because we are different we are not inferior, then let the second inform our church that our traditions of worship and our faith in God are also different and like wise are in no way inferior," said Archbishop Robert F. Sanchez of Santa Fe. N. M.

When you get this stillness in your body, you are in tune with the harmonious factors of the universe and its re-creative powers.

One day, at my farm in Dutchess County, N.Y. went for a walk. It was a glorious summer day and I walked through one of our meadows, noticing that, as the wheat rippled in the wind, it seemed to resemble the gentle undulation of the sea.

I WAS REMINDED of a woman who told me of going down to Florida for a rest after a nervous breakdown and lying on the sand day after day watching the sea. Suddenly she became aware that the beating of the waves against the shore synchronized perfectly with the heat of her own heart. Then she noticed a blade of beach grass waying in the breeze, and its movement too was in rhythm with the beating of her heart and the pounding of the surf on the sand. Suddenly, for the first time, she felt the inner harmony and stillness of the universe and its close relationship to herself.

As I thought about her experience while sitting on the fence and watching the wind ruffle the wheat. I had a delicious sense of well-being. Infinite peace was touching me. In body, mind and spirit, I felt

You can practice stillness of the body, even in the midst of a world full of tumult, and achieve release from tension. One way to do this is to lie down on some fairly flat surface, like the floor, where you can keep the backbone straight and the organs in proper balance. Start with your feet and say, "The stillness of God is in my toes, my feet. . .

Mentally travel about every part of your body saying. The stillness of God is in my heart, my lungs, my stomach, my fingers, my arms, the muscles of my neck, my face, the lids of my eyes. . .

What you are really doing is paraphrasing the Bible and saying to yourself, "Be still, (my physical body) and know that I am God." When you can conceive of God's hand as touching every part of your body with His healing touch, you will find release from physical tension.

L.B. religious communities unite to serve troubled senior citizens

By Ralph Hinman Jr.

"You might say we're an 'ombudsman to the elderly," mused Tom Claggett, coordinator-enabler of an innovative new action group with roots deep in Long Beach's Protestant, Catholic and Jewish com-

'In any ease" - Claggett completed his basic - "our goal is to make retirement a time of fulfillment.

People of diffent religions are hungry to join together, to work together to improve the 'quality of aging' in the city!"

Formed three years ago to work toward this goal, the Interfaith Task Force on Aging in the Long Beach Metropolitan Area (ITFA) today numbers nearly 40 churches, temples and other religious groups in its totally ecumenical membership — which it hopes to increase this year by recruiting individual volunteers and entire congregations.

Pinpointing who actually instigated 1TFA is less than easy — and probably irrelevant to this account. Certainly the Long Beach Area Council of Churches has been strongly supportive from the beginning, providing office space in its 1544 E. 7th St. headquarters while serving as corporate sponsor.

THE CITY OF Long Beach and its Department of Senior Citizens Affairs gets a large measure of credit, too. Department Director "Herb Nalibow has been a key figure from the very beginning in bringing us together," Claggett said. On the executive committee, chaired by Mary Tucker, a professional social worker and Protestant, are Bonnie Krasner of the Jewish community: Catholic Father Thomas J. Peacha and task force secretary Jean Magnuson, her husband a Lutheran minis-

(Among the many committee backstoppers are Rev. E. Joseph Read, pastor of Bixby Knolls Christia Church and 1977 council president; Rabbi Jonathan Brown of Temple Israel and Mrs. Virginia Desmond, active Catholic lay worker).

Claggett, who says his title of "coordinator-enabler" indicates his function is "to help others do the job rather than do it myself," is a Yale graduate and Presbyterian minister. He came here from Menlo Park on a partime basis last winter, only recently becoming ITFA's first—and so far, only fulltime professional staffer.

While the task force has drafted a comprehensive list of objectives, it presently is "zeroing in, concentrating on persons in convalescent hospitals and nursing homes," said chairperson Tucker, professionally a Los Angeles County social worker.

"We encourage our member religious bodies to

THIS 'TREE OF LIFE;' its roots deeply planted in Long Beach's several religious communities, is the newly-adopted symbol of the Interfaith Task Force on Aging. As visualized by Mary Foshager, a horpital nurse who created the design, the tree bears fruit in every season for the healing and fulfillment of all people. And its roots are nourished by the river of life.

Hard money questions put to Billy Graham

By Robert Hodierne and Mary

For the first time in the three decedes of his immensely successful minis-try. Evangelist Billy Graham is being asked hard questions about his finances The questions began in June, after the Charlotte Observer disclosed that Graham's ministry amassed a $22.9 mil-lion reserve fund, known as the World Evangelism and Christian Education

Graham's people had gone out of their way to insure that few outside their inner circle knew of the fund. Its xistence was kept from those who con-ribute money to Graham's ministry.

No one so far has questioned the egality of the fund. It appears to be a perfectly normal endowment whose wealth is invested in $19.3 million of blue chip stocks such as IBM and AT&T and $3.6 million of undeveloped mountain land in western North Carolina.

What people are questioning is Fraham's secrecy about the money.

One of those upset by the secret rund is J. Marse Grant, editor of the Biblical Recorder, the weekly publica-tion of the North Carolina Baptist Conrention. Grant, a longtime supporter of Traham, editorialized that in mass vangelism, "accountability is a 'must' and that is why there is disappointment and that is why there is disappointment when one reads of the $22.9 million fund, which two million contributors to the Graham ministry were not aware of."

In a similar vein, R. G. Puckett, editor of the Maryland Baptist, a publication of the Maryland Southern Baptist Convention, called the fund a case of "poor judgment." He wrote, "We take a dim view of redirecting contributions of trusting persons who sent money to the Graham organization assuming it would be used in direct and immediate evan-

Those in the dark about the fund were not just people who sent Graham the average $8-10 gifts that supply him with 90 per cent of his $25 million annual contributions. Even some big donors found the fund's existence a sur-

L.W. Berry of Oakland, Calif., heads family foundation that contributes $110,000 to $125,000 each year for Graham to conduct schools of evangelism during his major crusades.

About seven years ago. Berry heard talk of forming a foundation such as World Evangelism and advised Graham against it. The foundation was formed at that time, but no one told Berry until the North Carolina newspaper published its account. Berry, though not alarmed by the size of World Evangelism's bank account, still thinks it was a bad idea.

In a effort to still some of the critirism of the fund, Graham has written a 2,500-word defense. It will appear in the Aug. 29 edition of "Christianity Today," the country's leading magazine of evan-gelism and recipient of $240,000 in gifts from World Evangelism in the past five ministry to excercise responsible con-trol of money. There are national accounting firms, widely known lawyers and respectable businessmen watching the money, Graham says.

Graham and other staff members draw fixed salaries rather than depending on "love offerings" for their livelihood, a system Graham belives is more respectable. Graham's salary is $39,500. lie also has a nationally syndicated column which provides him an undisclosed additional income.

Graham outlined the history of World Evangelism. He said that, by 1970, his group came to realize the need for an endowment. The fund was built primarily with money unspent each year by the main arm of his ministry. the Billy Graham Evangelistic Associa-

In his article. Graham says World Evangelism was not really a secret. He says it was on file from the start with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). Graham does say the fund was not publicized for fear it would be inundated with requests for help which could not be filled.

The Observer asked Graham's business managers if it had a complete picture of the Graham ministry's finances and was told it did. It was not told of World Evangelism.

Graham himself told the Observer. when asked, that his ministry owned no stocks or bonds because it might appear to be an endorsement of a particular stock

Now he says it is acceptable for World Evangelism to own stock because his name isn't in the title.

Graham says he never mentioned World Evangelism to the paper because he was never asked specifically about Nowhere in his corrent 2,500-word defense of World Evangelism does Graham mention the size of the fund.

He does say much of its wealth will be required to build a religious study center at Wheaton (III.) College, his alma mater. Included in the center will be a Graham library.

The other major World Evangelism project, according to Graham, is a proposed bible study center near Asheville. N.C. That center might be built on land World Evangelism owns. Graham said.

Graham ended his defense with an appeal for even more money.

In response to your question (Religion Pages Aug. 20) about a column dealing with the mits and-bolts of operating a church, temple or synagogue.

In my opinion, I don't think so. Oh, it would satisfy our curiosity or give us the opportunity to boast perhaps. But the world is not interested in the mechanics of a church.

I feel we need a column of testimonies or interviews of the miracles that are happening today. The lives that have been changed, the alcoholics delivered, the drug addicts set free, the terminal cancer victims cured, the emotionally scarred made whole, heart patients restored and all the other diseases cured by the power of the Lord.

It would give hope to the thousands afflicted and joy to believers. The Lord has not stopped His creativity and spiritually dead churches are coming alive by the movement of the Holy Spirit. Jesus is performing the same miracles today that He did 2000 years ago.

I know because two years ago I was an alcoholic. And everyone had given up on me. But God in His mercy, reached down and touched me. I knew I was losing my mind. In desperation I called Hot Line at Melodyland, and as the counselor and I prayed, I received a Heavenly language to pray in. All this is in line with the consensus of opinion of most early Americans. Wesley and His Work, vol. 7, sermon 89, pp. 26-27 adds a little more to this. #### On unction

I continue to enjoy your columns on Saturday. After consulting with Father William O'Connor, Catholic chaplain, Memorial Hospital and Holy Innocents Church, we felt that one part of your July 23 article should be amended as far as the Roman Catholic Church was con-cerned. ARIES (March 2) April 19): Skip big doings. Travel isn't advised; if you go, avoid crowds. Beware overconti-dence, distration in using tools or small maintenance, repair

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Thread your way quietly among people who don't seem at ease with each other. Offer nothing beyond pleasant amenties, bospitality to indi-viduals you like.

SCURPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21):
If you're not a cente figure in other people's plans, accept this as normal. Realize that by much the same phenomenon, for you "No. 1" is your self. TAURUS (April 20 May 20): Cet a deal going. Limp-sum payments, quit claims, etc. are favored, it you're selling, set a price, don't haggle. Keep it simnle, abide by the rules.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Dodge people who just want to talk, kill time. Take a relaxed attitude at local or family pro-grams. See the progress loved ones make rather than any faults.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You get all the help needed. Ask early enough so triends are still free. Ease up with mildly competitive pastimes. Keep moods a well as exertion moderate.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Money or its equivatent is a strong factor in what you do. Put pride asside, stay within budget or carnings coming in soon. Skip the rest without luss, complaint.

VIRGH) (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Find a common goal most people agree on in peace. Let those who won't join do what they wish. Watch your wallet, be extravagant only if you can afford it.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 2-Dec. 21): Humor helps—if you chuckle to yourself. Explaining what's funny stirs annoyance elsewhere. Avoid deals unless it's to unload a white clephant for cash.

CAPHICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): If long-range plans are set, it's okay to make changes on small to moderate projects. Major moves, relocations are better put off for two-three weeks. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb.

18): Renewing communica-tions isn't simple, has to be done somehow. Take it easy, one detail in place at a time. Don't confuse people by tak-ing of the past.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Dissent crops up in groups very closely, then again very late. In between is clear sail-ing on all fronts. Youngsters upset schedules, no harm done, much learned.

Women scientists and engineers are earning doctoral degrees and finding jobs at twice the rate of heir male colleagues, a federal study shows, but women are still earning less.

And while members of racial minorities account for about 6 percent of all U.S. doctoral scientists and engineers, about four fifths are Asian, the study

The study "Characteristics of Doctoral Scientists and Engineers in the United States, 1975," has been released by the National Science Foundation.

CONDUCTED BY the National Academy of Science's Commission on Human Resources, the re-port contains data collected in 1975 on 278,000 scienand engineers holding Ph.D. degrees in the inited States.

The report contains information on indivduals who received their doctorates in between 1932 and 974. Included is detailed information on the total Ph.D. population of scientists and engineers, its em-ployed labor force, data on their three largest imployment sectors (education, business and indusy, and the federal government), and data on

The 144-page study concludes that while there cas a 13 percent increase in doctoral scientists and ngincers between 1973 and 1975, the number of comen earning Ph.D.s in science and engineering ncreased at a faster rate (23 percent) than men (12

Other conclusions include:

- The unemployment rate among all Ph.D. scientists and engineers, which was 1.2 percent in 1973, was under I percent in 1975.
- In 1975, over two-fifths of doctoral scientists and engineers in the United States were between 30 and 39 years of age, and three-fifths were under 45. The median age of all was 41.
  - · The number of employed doctoral scientists and engineers increased 16 percent between 1973 and 1975. The most significant change was a 32 percent increase in the number employed in industry.
  - In spite of that gain, educational institutions provided the major source of employment for Ph.D. scientists and doctors — 58 percent.
  - · Teaching was the primary work activity for more than one-third of those interviewed. Slightly less than one-third were employed in research and development, while about one-fifth were employed as
  - · The number of employed women doctorates showed a 29-percent increase between 1973 and 1975, over twice the increase of men.
  - Women's salaries continued to fall short of men's, but there was evidence the gap is beginning to close, especially among younger women Ph.D. hold-
  - The overall median salary in 1975 was $23,100, an 11 percent increase from 1973. However, the Consumer Price Index rose more than 20 percent, resulting in a net salary loss of 10 percent when inflation was taken into account

In fields of study, physical and life scientists together accounted for almost half of all doctoral scientists and engineers, the report found.

Within those fields, almost 16 percent are biological physical ph cal scientists and 14 percent are chemists. Other major fields include engineers, psychologists and

The study notes that between 1973 and 1975, the population of doctoral scientists and engineers grew by 33,000, or about 13 percent. While there were increases in doctorate holders in all fields, the report says, "relative gains occurred among atmospheric scientists, computer specialists, medical scientists and agricultural scientists, perhaps reflecting the increasing use of computers throughout the ANOTHER REASON for the increase in those fields, the report suggests, is "the demand for highly trained individuals in fields closely related to problems of national concern.

The smallest relative gains occurred among physicists/astronomers, mathematicians and biological scientists, the report adds. While women earned doctorate degrees at twice the rate of men, the report says, they still accounted for only 9.4 percent of all doctoral holders in the Racial minority group members earning science and engineering doctorates increased between 1973 and 1975 by 62 percent, but were still only 6 percent of all doctorate holders.

THE REPORT concludes that one of the nation's greatest resources is its pool of highly trained individuals capable of addrssing current problem areas and enlarging and advancing the fundamental body and enlarging and advancing the fundamental body. of knowledge available for applicatin to these prob-

Because doctoral scientists and engineers represent a key element in this national resource, the reports says, it is important to know who and what

RCA CORP, vice president and general manager Roy Pollack demonstrates new video tape machine in New York. It can record up to four hours of TV and eosts

RCA makes gain in recorder war

NEW YORK (AP) - A cheaper home videotape recorder that will tape more television time than models now on the market was introduced this week

The company's entry into the home video business will cost $1,000 and may handle casettes recording up to four hours of television programming, the firm said. Casettes currently available record up to two hours.

RCA's new product is designed to compete with Sony's Betamax casette machine. Sony introduced its first machine, with a one-hour casette, two years ago. A two-bour version, with a $1,300 price tag, appeared in May. Sony is selling the set itself and through licensees, including Zenith Radio Corp.

The RCA machine is being made by Matsushita Electric Industrial Co. of Japan, which uses the brand name Panasonic in the United States. Matsushita also plans to sell the same unit under the Panasonic brand name in the future.

RCA ESTIMATES it will sell more than one million units in 1979. Roy H. Pollack, vice president and general manager of RCA consumer electronics. predicted the video casette recorder market 'is a predicted the video casette recorder market "Is a promising new business that will reach the billion-dollar sales level within three years."

Sony officials agree. "We have already sold many, many thousands at this $1,300 price," said Joseph A. Lagore, vice president of the consumer products division, of Sony Corp. He said Sony, the only company to make both lanes and casettes has only company to make both tapes and casettes, has just scratched the surface of the market.

RCA said it plans to spend $4 million on its advertising campaign. Ty Govatos, an analyst for the Bache Halsey Stuart Shields brokerage firm, said: "With an adver-tising budget like that it will wipe out any profits this

But he estimated that RCA will sell enough machines "so you'll get enough volume to bring down production costs and lower the price $100." Govatos added that the process would continue to push down the costs each year.

"What you needed was somebody like RCA to come in and price it just low enough — not start a price war — but bring down the price enough to put some pressure on Sony," he said.

BLANK, TWO-HOUR RCA casettes will cost $17.95, and four-hour easettes will be priced at $24.95.

Sony prices its two-hour casettes at $17.

Lagore says RCA's longer-playing tape isn't a serious competitive problem. "The four-hour capability doesn't really concern us that much," he said.

"We will have available very shortly a changer device that will give us a four-hour capability by holding an extra tape," Lagore added. "The change will flip the new tape into place when one tape is linished."

NEW YORK (AP) - Blue chip stocks staged a small upturn Friday but the rest of the market continued to sink.

The Dow Jones average of 30 big-name industri-edged up 1.30 to 855.42, cutting its loss for the week to 8.06 points.

But Dow Jones' transportation and utility averages lost ground, and losers outdistanced gainers by a 3-2 margin on the New York Stock Exchange. Big Board volume was relatively light at 18.48 million shares, down from 19.40 million in the previ-

The Dow industrials, which closed Thursday at its lowest level since the end of 1975, fell another 6 points in early trading Friday before beginning a gradual comeback. The NYSE's composite index of all its listed common stocks also showed a large loss early in the session, but later trimmed its decline to .07 at 52.60.

Thus the index managed to hold just above its previous 1977 closing low of 52.56 reached on May 31.

The behavior of the NYSE index has been watched closely of late by a number of analysts who maintain that the Dow has been overstating the market's weakness. BROKERS SAID the market was still beset by interest-rate worries and talk of an economic slow-down in the months ahead.

In particular, they cited a forecast this week by the firm of Tucker, Anthony, R.L. Day of "a mini-recession within six to nine months." There were also widespread expectations of an impending increase in the discount rate — the interest rate the Federal Reserve charges on loans to its member commercial banks.

As the end of the week approached, however, Wall Streeters said blue chip issues drew some buying interest from traders looking for "bargains" and covering previous short sales.

Standard & Poor's index of 400 industrials was down .06 at 105.69, and S&P's 500-stock composite index dropped .09 to 96.06.

American Telephone & Telegraph, the most active NYSE issue, was off ½ at 61 as of the 4 p.m. close in New York. A 200,000-share block traded at Long Beach's internationally known award-winning home and hotel architect Edward A. Killingsworth has been honored by the prestigious Christian Science Monitor. It selected him as one of the top seven U.S. architects who typify "The Impetus to Build."

A story by William Martin was in the Aug. 18 issue plus an essay by Killingsworth on "Classicism into Simplicity." Killingsworth's current project is the Kapalua Bay Hotel on Maui, Hawaii. He has been in Long DRAWING SHOWS a design by McDonnell Douglas Co. of a suggested solar energy system for the California desert. Field mirrors track the sun to reflect heat to the boiler atop a tower where water is converted to steam, which drives an electric generator.

First U.S. solar power tower planned for Barstow desert

By Jennifer Kerr Associated Press

The southwest desert sun, hot enough to overheat many a car's radiator, will be used to boil water in the federal government's first large-scale attempt at solar-generated electricity.

The Energy Research and Development Administration, after two years of work by three industrial teams, has chosen the first design for an "experimental solar power tower" — a mirrored structure as tall as a 28-story building.

ERDA plans to build the fower in the Southern California desert about to miles from Barstow, using a design by McDonnell Douglas Astronautics Co. of Huntington ERDA expects to spend $100 million to build and operate the lower for five years, in addition to the $15 million to $20 million al-ready speul on design work and $20 million being contributed by a nearby power firm which is a part-ner in the project. It is an experimental project, and a McDonnell Douglas spokes-man says it is not expected to be the sole source of electricity for any community. It may, however, save fuel and help other generating systems meet peak loads. At this point, such systems are also ex-pected to be more expensive to run than conventional systems.

The federal agency expects to take bids and award contracts for the final design and construction within eight months, said Greg Cook of ERDA. Construction should begin next July, with operation expected to begin in late 1980 or early 1981, he said.

The plant would be on desolate land about 100 miles northeast of Los Angeles near Daggett Field. The land is owned by and adjacent to a power plant of Southern California Edison Co., the partner in the project.

The tower would be 283 feet tall and about 25 feet in diameter, said Don Hanson of McDonnell Douglas. The top 30 feet would be tall tubes filled with water. Surrounding the tower would be 1,500 glass mirrors, cach about 40 square yards.

The mirrors would reflect sunlight onto the tubes, boiling the water and creating steam. The steam would pass through a turbine and generator, producing an esti-mated 10,000 kilowatts of power.

The sun shines nearly every day in the desert. McDonnell Douglas studies show the Barstow area gets about half again as much sun-shine as the Midwest and twice as much as the Northeast or North-

How much sun would be needed to make the idea practical is "one of the things they're trying to find out," Hanson said.

"Right now," Hanson said,
"solar energy is going to be more expensive than fossil fuel. But as time goes on, and we learn our lessons on generating energy by the sun and the costs of fossil fuel go up, the costs are going to come

By the late 1980s and 1990s, the two are going to be about the

TV film of suicide plea stirs row, world interest

vision documentary in which a hidden police camera recorded a woman urging her aged mother to commit suicide has touched off a row over the right to privacy and over ethics in television and law enforcement.

"It has raised very wide issues which affect people in every country," said John Willis, the program's producer.
A dozen American and European television stations have contacted Yorkshire Television, part of Britain's commercial television network, asking to screen the program, "The Case of Yolande McShane."

It was shown in Britain Wednesday night, nine days after police gave Yorkshire permission to use a film made by detectives in March 1976 using a secret camera in a Sussex nursing home.

Tipped off by the nuns who ran the home, the detectives aimed their camera through a tiny hole into the room of Edith Mott, then 86 and bedridden by a bad fall. Inside, Mrs. Mott's daughter, Yolande McShane, was apparently trying to get the old woman to kill herself.

The film showed 61-year-old Mrs. McShane pass her mother a "massively tethal" dose of 15 nembutal barbiturate tablets and urge her to take them. Mrs. McShane was arrested as she left

Sandstorms cause highway hazards

Associated Press

Winds gusting up to 40 miles an hour caused sandstorms from Bar-stow to the Mexican border Friday, and motorists were urged to use caution on desert and mountains

The California Highway Patrol reported wind-whipped sand and dust creating hazards on Interstate 8 from Winterhaven west to Jacumba, about 80 miles east of San Diego, and on Highway 86 near the Salton Sea.

The deserl near Barstow was buffeted by gusts of 40 mph, but the CHP said no injuries or damage had been reported.

Less severe winds were reported in Imperial and Palm Springs, with gusts ranging from 14 to 28 mph.

Meantime, the National Weather Service said temperatures over the weekend would range from near 80 along the coast to the 90s in the deserts her mother's room. Nuns rushed in and grabbed the pills hidden in a bag of candy.

Mrs. McShane was later convicted of aiding and abetting an attempted suicide and jailed for two years. The film was the crucial wideness in the gase, and it was the evidence in the case, and it was the first time such evidence had been used in a British court.

During the trial police said Mrs. McShane sought by her mother's death to inherit $70,000. Mrs. Mott died of natural causes last week, aged 87:

Michael Deakin, head of Yorkshire TV's documentary department, said: "I have no doubt that this program represents the most important single event of the decade in television. We've stepped through a mirror onto ground that is totally new, and there can be no going back."

But the chilling life-and-death film has stirred a heated debate over television ethics as well as those of the police for their meth-ods in making the film and for permitting it to be screened nation-

Sussex's chief constable, George Terry, defending his men's actions, said: "My prime task is the saving and protecting of life. We are no longer in the 1890s."

we are no longer in the 1899s."
But Laborite legislator Robin Corbett declared: "This program should frighten every thinking person. The techniques used by the police are those we deplore in the Soviet Union or Chile."

Most newspapers echoed his condemnation of the public screening of the real-life drama.

George Gale, a conservative columnist in the Daily Express, said: "What right had any of us to eavesdrop upon and be titillated by a family tragedy in this fashion? There is surely no right. The program demeaned every one of us."

"A macabre film which should never have been shown," said the mass-circulation Daily Mirror.

"In practical terms, Mr" McShane has been tried twice to, the same crime," said Daily Mail TV critic Shaun Usher. "Television has at last done what was threatened for years and shattered old concepts of privacy."
On the show, viewers saw Mrs.
McShane hand her mother the pills and tell her: "If you took them and a very big drink of whisky, that's always falal, Mummy.

a very big drink of wisky, that's always (atal, Muminy.
"It's a combination of spirits and barbiturates, and they'd have an awful job to analyze your stomach when it's got whisky as well in it. It would make it much more difficult for them."

When the old yourse demurred.

When the old woman demurred, Mrs. McShane was seen telling her: "Mummy dear, people are doing it right, left and center all the time. There's nothing to it nowadays."

Finally Mrs. Mott accepted the pills and Mrs. McShane left, saying: "For God's sake, don't make a mess of it this time."

WASHINGTON (AP) -- The Securities and Exchange Commission charged Friday that Mayor Abra ham D. Beame of New York neisled the public in order to sell a record 84 billion in short-term city securi-ties to keep New York affoat in 1974 and 1975.
In a huge report that concluded a 19-month investigation, the SEC also accused Beame of causing hardship to investors and prolonging the city's financial crisis through deliberate deceit.

In addition, the SEC said the city's banks and financial institutions unloaded a major portion of their city bonds and concealed the full nature of the city's perilous economic situation to encourage smaller investors to assume more of the city's financial risk.

Beame, in a battle for re-elec-tion, lerined the report a "hatchet and a "shameless, vicious pojob" and a "shar litical document."

The report said: "The failure to make meaningful disclosures pro-longed the agony of the city's linancial crisis and delayed major necessary corrective efforts. This tailure caused undue risks and sub stantial injury to investors in the city's securities."

Angels tell Autry they're sorry: a 17-hit explosion!

By Tracy Ringolsby

DETROIT - Maybe it was the Angels way of telling owner Gene Autry they were sorry.
Or maybe it was a matter of finally hitting the ball.

Whatever, Friday night the Angels tied their season high total of 17 hits, the biggest of which was a two-run home run by Bobby Bonds in the 11th inning, en route to a 7-4 win over the Detroit Tigers.

Dave LaRoche, who came on with two outs in the ninth to relieve starter Frank Tanana after the Tigers tied the score 4-1, got the win. He blanked Detroit through the final 235 innings.

The conquest came the day after Autry blasted his team for playing like minor leaguers during a home stand in which it won two of seven games against Toronto, Cleveland and Detroit.

"It might upset people to hear that, but they have to look in the mirror." LaRoche said of Autry's barrage. "In the past, the Angels have had some terrible clubs, but no one could remember them playing as poorly as we did in the last

So true. In two games with the Tigers at Anaheim the Angels managed only two runs and II bits, four of which were of the infield variety. "Either we play like a bunch of minor leaguers," LaRoche said, "or we play like a big league club.

There is no in-between."

Bonds, who took over the American League lead with his 31st home run to win the game, couldn't blame Autry either.

"It was embarrassing for us to play at home the way we hid," said the rightfielder who needs only two stolen bases to become the first

Angel of the day

BOBBY BONDS belted a two-run home run to give Angels 7-1, 11-major leaguer to steal 30 bases and hit 30 home runs in four different years. "I don't think any of us wanted to go home and make asses out of ourselves, but it happened. You can't blame him for being upset He's the owner."

Friday, Detroit scored an unearned run in the first following a throwing error by Dave Chalk, but the Angels managed to take a 4-1 lead by the fifth. The fourth run came on second baseman Jerry Remy's fourth home run of the season, tying a season-high for him at any level of professional ball.

NCAA urges Las Vegas to suspend Tarkanian

Officials at the University of Nevada-Las Vegas expressed "relief" Friday after the Na-tional Collegiate Athletic Associ-ation had placed the Runnin' Rebels basketball program on probation for two years probation for two years.

But the NCAA also has recommended that UNLY relieve cage coach Jerry Tarkanian of his job. School president Dr. Donald Baepler admitted that the NCAA suggested that Tarkanian be terriporarily suspended.

"We're going to consider every conceivable alternate to Tarkanian's ouster; explore every avenue," Baepler said at a special news conference in Las Vegas. Tarkanian was not Bacpler said the school does not-plan to appeal the "institutiorial" sanctions, such as a han on NCAA-controlled telecasts, post-season play and limiting to three the number of scholarships to be granted.

However, Baepler hinted that a court battle could be in the offing if the university is forced to suspend Tarkanian or any other staff member. "I can give Jerry Tarkanian a vote of confidence," Baepler said

The school president also said that last year's team was "clean" with the exception of one minor violation involving a high school player who was allowed to use an assistant coach's car to drive to his hotel from a party. The player was not identified.

"In many regards, it's kind of a relief really to have the final verdict in from the NCAA so that we can address the issues," said Baepler.

"When you operate under the atmosphere that we have been forced to operate under these past several years, rumors flourish, things get rather dis-torted and your entire program is under a cloud. To a degree, we have had many of the disadvantages of probation for at least the past couple of years with respect to recruiting of top-notch talent."

NCAA investigators uncovered violations of 18 bylaws, and in some cases there were multi-ple violations of the same bylaw. The violations date back to the 1969-70 season when John Bayer was head coach. Tarkanian took over in 1973.

Baepler said the university has two weeks to decide what disciplinary action should be taken against Tarkanian and Bayer along with nine other per-sons, many of them not officially connected with the basketball program.

Bacpler estimated the probation will cost the school about $400,000 in television and tournament revenues. But the Rebels are already committed to two national television dates next season, and those committ-

ments will be kept. As for the team, Bacpler said he hopes all of the players

To fight for Tarkanian will opt to stay instead of transferring to other schools.

Reggie Theus, a backcourt star as a sophomore last year, has already said he will remain as long as Tarkanian is the head man. Others are expected to fol-low his lead.

Tarkanian's teams won more than 100 games over the past four years. For the past two years, the Runnin' Rebels have been the highest scoring team in the nation, averaging more than 100 points per game.

TV tussle at Kansas City tonight Rams are ready to let out the 'Clutch'

By:Rich Roberts

KANSAS CITY—The Rams were practicing their goal line of-fense at Cal State Fullerton a few days ago and having about as much success as they had at Minnesota.

Then Lawrence McCutcheon took a handoff, hit the hole and crashed into the end zone. Chuck Knox grinned, signalled "touchdown" and sent his players to the showers.

Something has been missing from the Rams' offense this sum-mer, and McCutcheon is just what Knox needed to brighten his day.

'It wasn't anything," says McCutcheon, who will see his first game action in the fourth practice affair at Arrowhead Stadium tonight (Ch. 2, 5:30 p.m.). "I think he (Knox) was just happy because things hadn't been going well all

McCutcheon has been held back because of a hamstring muscle in-jury sustained a week before train-

Tuthill says. "It's been six weeks, and with all the running he's been doing on the sideline during practice there shouldn't be any problem. We really haven't been treating him for two weeks, outside of a little stretching."

McCutcheon says, "I'm gonna play the game and not worry about the leg. I just hope I can continue to go full speed." It was in Arrowhead four years ago that McCutcheon first showed the NFL his talent. In his debut at running back, he rushed 21 times for 120 yards to launch a 1,097-yard

"I guess it is kind of ironic," he says, "but it's just accidental that it's worked out this way. I didn't want to rush back, so we just took our time. Hopefully, it will pay

Washington St. is optimistic....again

By Gary Rausch

PULLMAN, Wash. — The Pacific-8 Conference Skywriters' annual pilgrim-age to the high altar of football optimism, Washington State University, usually pro-duces enough hot air to fill the Goodyear

It rained, rained and rained some more in the Palouse Friday. That — and the reserved nature of Warren Powers might be a good omen for the Cougars this season.

Powers is the 36-year-old defensive backfield coach who helped bring Nebraska back-to-back national cham pionships (1970-71) and post-season bowl perths the last eight years.

The Cornhuskers' most valuable player' in 1962 started for Oakland in

The schedule alone — alma mater Nebraska, Michigan State, Kansas and USC all on the road to begin the campaign? — would have stopped many roaches from signing a contract. Not Sure it's going to be tough on the road, but we're going to go out there and execute as well as we can," he said. "We've got those games on the schedule and we can't do anything about them.

The Cougars have been notorious for miserable starts, and most of the misery can be directly attributed to performing early in enemy stadiums. Powers says he has no timetable this season.

"We'll play them one at a time and add up the wins at the end. I'm not saying we want to win 50 per cent of our games, because that's saying we're going to lose 50 per cent. If we lose the first it'll just mean we have to win the

The tone of conversation and even the words sounded strangely familiar, something Jackie Sherrill might have professed this time a year ago, or Jim Sweeney might have bubbled forth in any of the previous eight seasons. Sherrill and Sweeney, however, never had the nation's second-leading passer or No: 3 total offense leader returning to quarterback one of their teams.

Before the alumni could ride him out of town. Powers pointed out the change was a matter of necessity. Washington State's offense was simply too unbalanced to win many football games — No. 1 in passing, No. 8 in rushing.

There are different types of Veers," he explained. "There's Houston's, UCLA's and the one Lou Holtz developed at North Carolina State, allowing you to throw. We've got to keep the defenses off balance, and to do that we must have a respected running game."
Thompson readily agreed.

"I remember against Washington last year (a 51-32 loss despite his five TD passes and 311 yards) when nine men dropped off to stop the pass and only two rushed. Mike Levenseller came back to the huddle shaking his head and saying. 'It's like a maze out there.

"For our Veer to succeed, the quarterback has to pass, but the emphasis must be on the running backs with quick hitters inside and the ability and speed to get outside.

Powers has some quickness in Mike Washington (6-0, 185), Gahr High's Harold Gillum (5-10, 185), Dan Dorrnink (6-3, 209) and Tali Ena (6-0, 180), but no real "hammer and tong" types, as Powers calls

"I guess I'm the overpowering back," laughed the 6-3, 215-pound Thompson. I've been building up my forearm for years. I just hope I can run as tough as Thompson was a Veer quarterback in high school. Sweeney utilized the formation in 1975 and Sherrill toyed with it some last season. Thompson doesn't have the speed of most Veer signal callers (5.0 40 against the usual 4.6-4.7). He does have that precious arm, though, and is willing to shear the precious arm. to absorb the punishment.

Powers is no stranger to quarterbacks, and he rates Thompson with the best he saw at Nebraska.

"As far as arms go, Jack has as good if not better velocity than David Humm or Vince Ferragamo. As a runner he's as good if not better than Jerry Tagge, Humm or Feragamo. He's got to run the football to make our offense go."

As Jack Thompson goes, so go the Washington State Cougars in 1977.

ELMENDORF

Edited by Jack Schrader

These days, off-road racer Mickey Thompson is literally a broken man.

Already ailing from a crash six days ago in which he broke three ribs, Thompson broke a finger Friday in an accident during qualifying for the SCORE Off-Road World Championships at Riverside International Raceway.

Thompson came off a jump in his MT Challenger dune buggy and banged into another car that had rolled going over the jump. The other driver was unhurt, and Thompson returned to the course and drove more laps in the vehicle after having first aid for the swollen and bloody hand.

Angels rip Tigers in 11th, 7-4

There were some anxious moments late in the game. After Ron Jackson doubled with one out in the ninth, Don Baylor singled to right. Baylor, thinking Jackson was going to try to score, rounded first base too wide and when Jackson held up at third, Baylor was caught off

The Tigers had scored two runs in the bottom of the eighth off Tanana, who was seeking his 16th win. They tied the score in the ninth, with the help of Gil Flores' misplay of an Aurelio Rodriguez double down the leftfield line.

Flores, instead of playing the ball to bounce off the wall along the foul line, went right up to the wall and the ball went right past him, allowing John Wockenfuss, who had singled with two outs, to score.

ANGEL ANGLES - The Detroit

series continues today with Paul Harlzell (6-8) going against Fernando Arroyo (7-49). Centerfielder Thad Bosley had three hits, all of the bloop variety, in five at-bats Friday. He struck out in his two other trips to the plate. Also picking up three hits were Don Baylor and Flores. Flores' third hit was a double, which rolled under the glove of show boating Tiger second baseman Tito Fuentes and died as it reached the outfield grass to drive in the linal run.

Teller pays out at Del Mar

Teller coasted to a three-length

Teller coasted to a three-length victory in the $11,000 San Diego Convention and Visitors Bureau Purse at Del Mar Friday.

Teller, ridden by Bill Shoemaker and carrying 113 pounds, covered 1 1-16 miles in 1:41% and paid $7.20, $5 and $4.60. Kaskee, with Theoree Charmen in finished with Thomas Chapman up, finished second and returned $5.60 and Trust Up, with Marco Castaneda aboard, paid $6 to show. Nine horses entered the allowance event for 3-year-olds and up. Favored Master Elbow, ridden by Fernando Toro, finished fourth.

Teller led nearly all the way,

Friday before a crowd of 12,983. MARK'S PLACE, purchased in January for $142,0000, will seek to return another installment on that payment today when he faces four rivals in the San Diego Handicap. The mile and one-sixteenth event, which serves as the final major steppingstone to the Del Mar Handicap on Labor Day, attracted Austin Mittler, Copper Mel, Confederate Yankee and Mister Dan.

As a four-year-old, Mark's Place was first under the wire in the 1976 San Diego Handicap, beat-ing six rivals with a closing burst through the stretch. But his momentum also impeded his field and a stewards' inquiry was closely followed by his disqualification. Mark's Place will carry top weight of 124, including Shoemaker.

When Mark's Place was disqualified, Austin Mittler was advanced to second, his second con-secutive runnerup effort of last

Three U.S. crews advance to finals

AMSTERDAM (AP) The United States reached Sunday's finals of the World Rowing Championships in three categories during rain-swept competition Friday in the 2,000meter Bosbaan course.

American crews reached the finals of the men's eights - the main event of the championships — the double sculls and the coxless pairs.

In other action, single scullers Timothy Crooks of Great Britain and Nikolai Dovgan of the Soviet Union stroked to spectacular individual victories and the East German crews swept into all the men's linals. In the over-all team competition, the Olympic champion East German crews won five semifinal heats Friday including the eight-oared boats.

The East Germans had already reached the finals through earlier wins in the other three men's heavyweight events and thus are in a commanding position to sweep the championship

The Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia placed crews in five of the eight men's final events and Bulgaria did even better with six spots in Sunday's

Yanks increase golf lead

U.S. holds 9-3 Walker advantage

SOUTHAMPTON, N.Y. (AP) - Scott Simpson, winner of the NCAA championships the past two years, was involved in a pair of lopsided victories Friday to lead the U.S. to a 9-3 advantage over Great Britain in the 26th Walker Cup. Simpson, who needs one more semester of work to receive his degree from the University of Southern California, scored a 7-and-6 win over 40-year-old Gordon Murray Friday after-noon at Shinnecock Hills Golf Club.

In the morning, the NCAA titlist teamed with Lindy Miller, Big Eight Conference titlist in 1976, for a 5-and-4 triumph over John Davies, playing in his third Walker Cup, and Michael Kelley in scotch foursomes.

THE Americans, who entered the two-day competition with a decided 22-2-1 advantage in the international classic, captured the other three foursome matches and the other six victories in singles.
Miller, an honor student at Oklahoma State opened the singles competition on the par-70, 6,470-yard layout by defeating British Amateur champion Peter McEvoy, 2-up. Vance Heafner, North Carolina Amateur tithist, then handed John Davies his first defeat in five singles matches in Walker Cup competition, 4-and-3.

Great Britain's biggest win in singles was regis-tered by Alan Brodic, 29-year-old Scottish Amateur champ, by a 4-and-3 score over Bill Sander of Seat-tle, the current U.S. amateur king. Steve Martin of Scotland accounted for the only other singles win by the visitors, 3-and-2 over Gary Hallberg of Barrington, Ill., at 19 the youngest member of the U.S. squad.

JOHN Fought of Partland registered a 4-and-3 decision over lan Hutcheon of Scotland, who also played in the Walker Cup in 1975.

It was Hutcheon who sank a dramatic sevenfoot putt on the final hole in the morning that ena-bled him and Peter Decble of England to score a 1-up triumph over Dick Side: rowf, insurance broker of Westport, Conn., and Hall-

Hale Irwin blasts out of 12th green sandtrap Friday en route to a record-tying 62 in Hall of Fame Golf Classic in Pinehurst, N.C. Irwin stands at 127, 15-under-par, after two days of play.

Irwin dazzles Hall of Fame field with a 62

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) - Determined Hale Irwin responded to what he called "a must-win situation" with a spectacular, nine-under-par 62 that put him within a stroke of the all-time tour record for 36 holes Friday in the second round of the $250,000 Hall of Fame Golf

Irwin, who has built his career around a domination of the country's most difficult courses, put together a two-round total of 127. That's the best score in any tour event for more than a decade and is just one shot off the record set by Johnny Palmer in the 1948 Tucson Open and since tied five times.

Irwin's effort came on famed No. 2 at the Pinehurst Country Club, a pine-studded, 7,007-yard layout in the Carolina sandhill country that long has been revered as one of America's more testing, demanding courses. His 62 matched the course record set in 1973 by Gibby Gilbert.

"It's not that easy a golf course," insisted Irwin, who came into this event needing a victory to gain entry to next week's prestigious World Series of Golf.

But, he added, "It's perfectly manicured. The greens are soft and holding. They're perfect. Absolutely perfect. The rough is not that severe.

"It's playing about as timid as we'll ever see it."

IRWIN, WHO has won all but one of his eight tour titles on exfremely difficult courses, used the words "incredible," and "unbelievable" in describing the play that put him almost out of sight of the rest of the international field.

fle had an imposing, five-stroke lead over Lon Hinkle, alone in second at 132 after a 67. Leonard Thompson had 69—133, followed by Miller

Barber, 67-134, and Charles Coody and J. C. Snead at 135. Coody shot a 68 and Snead, the first round leader, Masters and British open champ Tom Watson had 72—142, defending title-holder Ray Floyd 72—140 and Arnold Palmer 71—142.

Green shoots 69, leads Irish Open by one stroke

PORTMARNOCK, Ireland (AP) ---U.S. Open Golf champion Hubert Green fired a three-under-par 69 Friday and grabbed a one-stroke lead over three others after two rounds of the Irish Open Championship.

Green, who shot a first round 70, was five-under-par at 139 over the 72-par course followed by Australia's Greg Norman, South Africa's Andries Oosthuizen, and Ireland's Jimmy Kinsella at 140.

Defending champion Ben Crenshaw of the United States, who shot an opening round 71, equalled Green's round to put him at 141 along with Australia's N. Rat-

First-round leader Simon Hobday of South Africa slumped after Thursday's record 67 to 75, falling into a three-way tie at 142 with Peter Dawson and Spain's Severiano Ballesteros, 70-72

Green, on his first visit to Ireland, reaped the benefit of practice on his iron shots. He reached the turn in 35, four-under-par.

Only the finish disappointed him. Two drives were not enough to reach the 17th, and he missed a five foot putt on the 18th.

Kinsella, the Irishman who faces major heart surgery later this year to insert a pacemaker, sonowed his round 69 with a one-under-par 71. Playing in his third major tournament this yearhe failed to qualify in the other two-38year-old Kinsella thrilled his vast gallery with his second round 71 and a fourunder-par total of 140.

Four times a World Cup player, Kinsella has been troubled by his heart condition for the last two years. But he kept his cool well Friday and threatened the lead after birdies at the 12th and 13th. But the dream ended at the 16th when, from only eight feet, he needed three putts, sliding the first two feet past and missing on the way back.

Baugh, 22, and Ahern, 28, sank putts for birdies on the par-5, 460-yard 18th hole to claim the lead from M.J. Smith, Hollis Austin and Bonnie Lauer, who shot three-under 70s.

"I had many good straight shots that were long or short, simply because of the wind gusts," Baugh said.

LBSU Studio Ensemble I

The exceptional nature of Director John Prince's Studio Ensemble I, from the Music Department at Long Beach State University, is amply proven by the fact that it was one of only two university bands in the U.S. that was invited to the 1977 Montreux Jazz Festival.

Montreux, in its 11th year, is the most impor-tant festival on the international jazz scene. Noteworthy bands and individual performers from the U.S. and Europe are invited to participate in the two-week event, which includes blues and folk music as well as jazz.

Wednesday Prince brought the Studio Ensemble home to give the local jazz audience a taste of the tight ensemble playing and the excellent solo performance that made trip to Montreux possible.

The group, with the assistance of its companion Studio Vocal Ensemble, played for almost three hours at Recreation Park bandshell without a drop in either enthusiasm or musicianship.

Several of the evening's charts were written by Kubis has an excellent feel for balancing the many timbral components of the jazz band, and taking a familiar theme or song and developing it into an original and highly stylized composition.

The modest-sized, but anneciative audience was responsive to Kubis' rangement of "When You're Smilin" a light tune reminiscent of the style of Count Basie.

Kubis' arrangements of Rubis' arrangements of Duke Ellington's "Take the A Train" and the re-cent theme from "Rocky" were also well received musician's deftness. In addition to his theoretical aptitude, Kubis, showed his equally, developed improvisațional ability through his many solos throughout the evening.

Instrumentally pianist Cox is just as impressive cox is just as impression as Kubis. Although given only a few solos Wednes-day, his inspired playing during Prince's "Swiss" during Prince's "Swiss Cheese Bleus" and Kubis' arrangement of the Chick: Corea tune, "Windows," was enough to convince.

The most effective nti-lization of the vocal ensemble came during its extrapolation of the Earth-Wind and Fire song "Cetaway." Much of the rest of the time the group, was restricted to backing solo-ists, and did not have the opportunity to break loose.

NEW YORK - "I like go to movies. I enjoy burning my hair with my tigarette, like I just did," said Richard Pryor, talina patting out the aktakkal blaze without is to a beat.

"Oh, yes," said Pryor, grinning, "they have in mind to make money. I think it's fair to say that making money is first and foremost in their minds, and as long as we make money, the deal will be in effect. If I disappoint them, it'll become a one-picture deal."

He is at his most taciturn when it comes to the motives that have governed his choice of film roles. About "Silver Streak," a film he seems not to have liked, he simply says, "I put myself in it, but I didn't do it, not with my heart. It was a business decision. I was looking to hustle, and I got hustled." About "Greased Lightning," he points out that the part of racing driver Wendell Scott was the first worthwhile star ring role anyone had offered him, and that thought it would be a good chance for me to be in movies

Does he think that having learned acting in the school of hard knocks has helped make him more versatile? Yes, Pryor conceded, looking glum all over again. "I'm every-body. Everybody that I can re-create, I'm somehow part of them. I've got the same things in me, no matter how terrible they are. Maybe I don't do the same things, but I know." Is there any kind of person he can't play? "No, not even Hitler, really. Unfortunately.

Pryor is especially un-easy when it comes to discussing the kinds of funny, scathing character-izations his fans have come to admire and expect from him. "I don't pect from him. "I don't want people to believe in me for the wrong rea-sons," he said vehemently, adding that he had been genuinely anxious about how his lowkeyed, deliberately unfunny performance in deliberately unfunny periormana."

especially because the audience was laughing inthe wrong places, nervous laughter during the upsetting scenes, maybe laughing so they wouldn't cry. But then there's the scene when Pam Grier comes to visit me in the hospital, when I'm all bandaged up, and, and she starts saying,
One guy in the audience and right then I knew everything was line." Pryor sipped his straight vodka, ignored the sliced raw potato he had ordered from room service and began staring out the hotel window at the building next door, so close by it made him shudder and think about snipers. He began feeling solemn, and a question about his success only heightened the mond.

I don't know anybody worthwhite who you can talk about who doesn't want some money," a little defensively. "Striking it rich? Hey, I saw my mother turn tricks for some drunk white man when I was a kid. I saw my father take the money and I saw what it did to them

"But they gave me righteousness, my parents — I'm a good person," he continued, very quietly. "Nobody can reproach me on nothing. I didn't cut nobody's throat to get where am. I did it, just me, it happened to me; it was a Whoever did it, I thank him for it.

The cops are supposed to have killed me a long time ago, just on G.P. Not because I'd done nothing, just because of where I was in life. Just a little target practice. Just an accident."

PACIFIC WALK-IN THEATRES Pryor paused a long while. Then: "Black people love me, and I love them, and I love that con-nection," he added in-tensely. "If they took all my money away, I'd have to go to some ghetto to live. It ain't gon' be some white neighborhood — I'd have to go live with my people. As long as they like what I do, I know I'm doing all right.

PBS' 'Villa Alegre' hopes to draw 5 million bilingual kids

OAKLAND (1) — What would you think if Don Quixote and Hamlet clashed in a comic joust on your television screen to settle whether Shake speare or Cervantes was the better writer?

The producers of "Villa legre," a show aimed at Alegre. kids aged 4 to 8 who speak Spanish or English, are betting that the following message will come through - different doesn't mean better or worse where culture is concerned.

The Public Broadcasting Service is banking that the kids will get the mes-sage, too. It has tapped the year-old public TV show to lead off this season's after-school lineup, just ahead of such heavy-weights as "Sesame

$28-million hotel proposed to make L.B. 'tourist city'

By James M. Leavy Urban Affairs Writer

Heralded as the advent of Long Beach as a "tourist city," a proposal to build a $28-million, 542-room convention center hotel was announced Friday by City Councilman Don Phillips.

The luxury hotel, to be operated by Sheraton, will, according to Phillips, provide an opportunity for a tourist industry "and all of the jobs and opportunities that come with it." If approved, it would open in about two years.

"We have never had a true con-"We have never had a true convention hotel in this city.... It will provide the kind of image a tourist has of California. Where else can be go and find a beautiful hotel on the beach?" Phillips said. The hotel, designed so it may be expanded to 1,000 rooms, would be in Phillips' First Councilmanic District.

PHILLIPS' announcement followed a request by developers to lease 7.7 acres of tidelands from the city. It came after an 18-month delay caused by difficulty in obtain-east of the shoreline aquatic park. The boardwalk proposed to link the shoreline to the downtown area, between Locust and Pine avenues, will run through the western portion of the hotel complex.

The hotel will provide a view of the ocean from each room. It will include an ice-skating rink, 12 tennis courts, six racquetball courts, 35,000 square feet of banquet and meeting space, a specialty restaurant and cocktail and entertainment language. In addition, there ment lounges. In addition, there will be more than 40,000 square feet

RANDALL J. Verrue, general manager of the City Tidelands Agency, said the city will build a three-level parking garage for 750 cars and provide surface parking for 200 autos. The parking structure funds will be provided by revenue bonds or through tax increment financing, he said.

The city has made several com-mitments, including the parking plan, to the developer to help obtain financing.

Agreeing with Phillips, Verrue described the hotel as a "key ingredient to the city's success as a convention center location."

Verrue said he sent a letter to the City Council asking members to authorize the city to begin negotia-tions for a 55-year lease for the hotel site. The council is expected to respond to the request Tuesday.

Long Beach sun lovers are getting some relief from paying recently imposed beach-front parking lot fees, but the relief will be temporary.

Because of traffic congestion the city has stopped charging the controversial fees at three lots, but it will resume charging next spring, Randall Verrue, general manager of tideland activities, said Friday.

A new Cerritos law enforcement contract that assigns an allvolunteer deputy patrol force on a

City officials and Communder Rick Merrick of the Lakewood sheriff's station said it is difficult to evaluate the system since crime statistics for the two months the program has been in operation haven't been released.

"It's hard to tell this early." said Art Gallucci, director of human affairs. "But from the response we've had from residents and the checks we've been making, it appears it's running very suc-ressfully."

"We believe that by having more units and the deputies being familiar with crime areas, we will reduce crime," he said. When officials asked deputies to volunteer for assignment in the city, some hesitated because they preferred two-man units and had fears of patrolling in the one-man cars Cerritos had requested, Merrick said. Kurt Swanson, head of community services, said, "In studies, we found that between 65 and 70 percent of the calls required only one man."

Residential burglary is the most serious crime problem in Cerritos, according to Lt. John Johnson. He said there have been 432 residential burglaries the first six months of this year.

WITH AN average value of $57.285, Cerritos homes have been obvious targets for burglars, Johnson said. Shoplifting also is prevalent in the Los Cerritos Shopping Center, although exact figures were Although Cerritos has an individual contract, the city and the sheriff's department still have a cooperative agreement to send other units to and from Cerritos when needed in an emergency situation, Merrick said.

vacation in Southland Eastern seniors recall

Another in a Saturday series of people who made the news and what they are. doing now.

By Brad Altman

You'd think 39 senior citizens from back East who came to Southern California last spring for an all-expenses paid vacation would have mostly compliments for the man who arranged the trip.

for the man who arranged the trip.
You're right.
His name is Sol Kest, a 55-year-old Los Angeles hotel builder who sympathized with old folks suffering through the bitter-cold spring.
He announced in newspapers, especially in hard hit Ohio and Pennsylvania, that some 50 seniors would be his guests in California, staying at Kest-owned retirement facilities such as the Breakers Hotel in downtown Long Beach and hotels in Anaheim and Oxnard.

Those who participated had to be at least 65, receiving Social Security benefits and able to pay airfare to the West Coast.

The visitors remained from a few days to two months. Kest later said that his brainstorm-turned-reality cost him $20,000 for food and lodging.

Ironically, there was a warm spell in some Eastern cities when the first planeload of guests touched down at Los Angeles International, Airport March 10. The Eastern visitors were light cotton dresses and short-sleeved shirts as they stepped off the plane. Kest's cheerful guests told an airport gathering of reporters that they were happy to be in Southern Cali-lornia. The news media had earlier been given background information and other coverage tips by a public relations firm hired by Kest.

Now, five months later, the 39 visitors are home again. The weather has been unusually humid and hot in many Eastern cities this week and for some participants the memories of their California stay are equally muggy. Those reached by telephone had kind words. "It was a once-in-a-lifetime experience which I could never afford on my own," said one elderly woman whose only income is her monthly Social Security check. Others shared her sentiments.

"It was all a publicity stunt," said Christine Labriola, of Blawnox, Pa., whose viewpoint was echoed by Margaret Lechowick, 69, of Cleyeland, Obio; "It was an excellent public relations thing for him (Kest)."

Mrs. Labriola, a 62-year-old widow, lived for two months at an Anaheim retirement hotel. One staff member told her to "pack up and leave" when it was learned that she was three years younger than the minimum age requested by Kest.

minimum age requested by Kest.

Kest said Mrs. Labriola could stay, though from then on the staff was "very cool" toward her, she recalled. She added that the offer of free accommodations "was a beautiful thing for him (Kest) to do."

Mrs. Mary Berdis, 73, of Braddock, Pa., was offered a trip to Palm Springs with other Breakers Hotel residents to avoid the noise and congestion caused by the annual Grand Prix auto race through downtown streets, but she preferred to watch the race from her 10th floor window.

"There was a suicide in the hotel jumped from the 12th floor - but everything else was pleasing," she said.

Some made new friends they may never see again, but the long-distance relationships are continuing in Johanna Pseifer, 75, of Pittsburgh, Pa., said she "made a lot of nice friends at the Breakers Hotel, especially the bartender in the cocktail lounge.

"I'm telling my friends that Long Beach is the place to retire," said Mrs. Pseifer, a widow and former telephone operator. "I'm just hoping Mr. Kest might invite us down there again this winter."

"If it's a cold winter, I might invite those who weren't chosen this year," Kest answered, from his Goldrich-Kest and Associates offices in Los Angeles.

I will not commit myself, but if I have enough room at my facilities, I will probably do it again."

Was it worth it? "Sure," said Kest, a native of Czechoslavakia. "I've gotten a lot of thank-you letters."

RUBY SHOOLBRED AND ROGER DENNY WITH ANTIQUE PIANO IN SHOP

Antique piano is their forte

By Don Borst Staff Writer

Roger Denny's 9-year-old son wanted to take piano lessons a few months ago, so Denny purchased an antique piano that eventually launched him into a new career.

He said he found that antiques are much more beautiful, less expensive and better-sounding than modern pianos.

While his son Mark practiced on the piano. Denny and his long-time friend, Ruby Shoolbred, started an antique piano business called R & R Enterprises.

"Ruby and I were talking one night about starting a business, and four days later I was in London, trying to buy all of the antique pianos I could find," Denny said.

"It makes sense, Antiques go up in value every year and are tremendous additions to any home. And there is really a demand for them."

Their Long Beach store, named Antique Pianos, at 341 Long Beach Blvd., has 150 pianos now, which they boast is the largest collection of antique pianos in the country.

Additional school aid hinges on panel's vote

Long Beach schools would get 2,016,894 in additional state aid 1977-78 if a compromise school fi-nance measure is passed by a joint legislative committee next week.

The money won't be enough to erase the school district's deficit, however. The district is already $2.7 million short, not counting whatever pay hikes employees get later in the year.

Deputy Superintendent Francis

Laufenberg said the school district needs at least a five percent in-crease in state funds "to meet inflation partially and to provide a modest salary increase for employ-

The proposal the legislative committee is considering would provide only 2 percent, Laufenberg

He said the measure deprives Long Beach of basic program increases that other districts will receive.

"We have urged our representatives in the Legislature to vote against acceptance of the conference committee report," he said.

He called their business ex-

He called their business extremely specialized.

"You've got antique dealers and piano dealers," he said, "but there aren't very many stores that sell only antique pianos."

They anticipate turning over their stock completely by Christmas, and Mrs. Shoolbred plans to fly to Europe next month, to buy "as many as I can."

Denny noted that in their store are makes from all over Europe, and are all of hand-carved wood—many decorated with beautiful inlaid wood.

laid wood.

He said prices for antiques start at about $400 and average about $750. The most expensive are two 110-year-old, 7-foot parlor grands by John Broadwood & Sons, which Denny says would sell for about $15,000 cach.

"These are masterpieces in themselves," he said. "Beethoven, Haydn, Handel and other great ones worked on Broadwoods."

The oldest piano in stock is an A. Bord, by Leytel of Paris, the same type used by Chopin, made in 1850.

"We don't know if any famous composers used any of our pianos," Mrs. Shoolbred said, "and we cer-tainly don't claim that." Then she smiled and added: "We really don't know -- but you never can tell."

One of the advantages of royalty is royal treat-ment, and this is what Pam Bourette of Lake wood, said she received this summer.

The VIP trip included interviews with news media and visits to just about every tourist attraction in the country. In her spare time, Pam said, she shapped for silver spoons for her collection and na-tive dolls as keepsakes.

However, the director of information in Washington, John Leslie, readily admitted the Office of Workers' Compensation was having difficulty meeting the growing nummeeting the growing numbers of claims.

Between 1972 and 1976,

Leslie said, claims have increased from an average of 27,000 a year to about 41,000, or 700 percent. At the same time, he noted, the number of employees handling the paperwork, 472, has increased by only 15, or 3 percent.

"Physically, the workers are unable to handle the work load," Leslie said.

The problems are so severe, Leslie reported, that officials recently found a backlog of unopened mail several months old at one of the agency's regional offices.

However, Leslie said funds to hire an additional 640 employees have been approved which, along with other new policies, should begin to reduce waiting periods by almost half.

For example, he said, the claim forms are being revised for easier processing. Specialists also are being assigned to regional offices to speed up screening of medical forms, and a central mailing system will be established in each regional office to elimi-nate backlogs, he said.

SAN BERNARDINO (AP) - A foundry owner accused of boarding tons of weapons in undeground bunkers in the desert and at his Ontario home was placed on three years' probation Friday in Superior Court.

Donald Wiggins, 41, also was fined $500 after plead-ting guilty to a single charge of having a machine gun and a sawed-off shotgun in his Ontario home. He still faces sentencing Sept. 30 in Los Angeles Superior Court, here he pleaded guilty plea to one count of possessing illégal explosives.

Wiggins was initially charged with 15 felonies after the 12 tons of weapons — including mortar rockets and bazookas — were unearthed last December.

Rockwell unveils 'new-age' airplane

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) Rockwell International Corp. Friday rolled out the prototype of its XFV-12A, an airplane that could mark a new age in aviation.

Rockwell President Robert Anderson said the strange little airplane. which can jump straight up and fly backwards, could lead to commercial jetliners being able to land on city parking lots or the tops of downtown office buildings. Navy Secretary W. Graham Claytor Jr., Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes and a list of military dignitaries and state and local government and civic officials attended formal rollout ceremonies at Rockwell's aircraft and missile works.

The U.S. Navy, which has sunk $80 million into the XFV-12A since 1972, is interested in a small lighter or reconnaissance plane which can make a vertical takeoff from the decks of a new generation small-scale aircraft carriers.

If will be into the 1980s, however, before mass production decisions are made, said Virgil Hanenek project manager.

The plane displayed for the brass Friday was a short, sleek blue and white jet with a plugged tail and stubby front fins called 'canards'' which maneuver the aircraft.

The XFV-12A didn't lly and won't until it gets to Langley Air Force Base in Virginia for vertical takeoff and hovering tests. Conventional flight tests will follow in January or February in Columbus.

Hancock said the plane could carry up to 12,000 pounds if given a runway the length of a football

The airstream from the engine is directed downward through the wings and the front canards for a vertical takeoff. The XFV-12A should be able to hover like a helicopter and even fly backwards at speeds up to 45 m.p.h.

Engine exhaust is diverted to the rear of the air eralt once it is airborne, allowing it to fly like a conventional jet at speeds in excess of 1,500

A full production con-tract for the XFV-12A at Rockwell's Columbus Aircraft Division could mean more than 1,000 jobs, according to Hancock.
